

BE A CONFIDENT GROUP FACILITATOR

GET TO AHA!

Lead pleasant, and productive brainstorming and strategic planning sessions, AGMs, seminars and committee meetings.

Expand your skills to new arenas and more challenging group types.

Deliver effective training workshops.

Manage your team and keep them involved.

AVOID THE ARRGHHH!

What should you do to avoid your group's dynamic descending into conflict and chaos?

How do you gently encourage the quiet ones, and masterfully manage the talkers?

How do you get the attention of those condescending, high-and-mighty heads?

You can facilitate one kind of group, now it's time to stretch yourself into new territory.

GROW YOUR GROUP FACILITATION SKILLS

This course provides you with a fundamental grounding as well as fresh ideas, processes, and practical tips for working with groups.

Learn to be an expert facilitator in a multitude of settings, including meetings, conferences, workshops, seminars, strategic planning sessions, learning courses and more.

WHAT'S INVOLVED?

It's experiential learning course offering:

- » thoughts and reflections on the key concepts of working with groups
- » practical and pragmatic tools and methods
- » and a self reflective space for the participants professional development

You might have homework.

SOME COURSE THEMES

What is Facilitation? What is it not?

How groups work. / How they don't.

Facilitating yourself. Facilitating one other.

Being prepared for the dysfunctional groups.

Developing discernment and tactful timing.

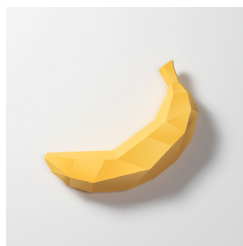

How to be successful: dos and don'ts.

What's your facilitation style?

WHO'S THE TRAINER, DAVE DUNN?

Dave Dunn has been facilitating groups since 2007, mostly in leadership development courses and mental health and wellbeing interventions. Whilst he is strong in facilitating youth groups and young adults, he is not averse to the likes of strategic planning sessions, conferences, AGMs, and MC-ing open mic nights.

In 2013 Dave began running sessions as Monkey Business - a space for children of all ages to play great group games. He is also part of the Love Olympics team, a different take on your classic field sports day, borne from Another Love Story.
